

“Remember This”

[Franki Rose] sweet baby of mine

You won't be this little for long

[Franki Rose] I know I can't freeze time

But my heart will always hold on

To the way you are today

But I know somehow I'll love you even more tomorrow

I wanna remember this:

[The sweet sound of your little voice when you sing]

If I blink, I just might miss

[How proud you look when you jump so big]

I wanna remember today

[Your little hand in mine as we cross the street]

I wanna remember the way

[You play with your hair when you're falling asleep]

[Franki Rose] sweet baby of mine

You won't be this little for long

[Franki Rose] I know I can't freeze time

But my heart will always hold on

To the way you are today

But I know somehow I'll love you even more tomorrow

You've taught me to be present

To be here in the moment

That tomorrow is a present

And with each one, you're growing

When you wake up

You'll be bigger than you are tonight

So I tell myself as I turn off the light:

I wanna remember this:

[How big you'll smile when you wake up in the morning]

If I blink, I just might miss

[Your airplane arms in the kitchen; you'll go flying]

I wanna remember today

[How adventurous and fearless you are]

I wanna remember the way

[You love your unicorn and baby doll]

[Franki Rose] sweet baby of mine

You won't be this little for long

[Franki Rose] I know I can't freeze time

But my heart will always hold on

To the way you are today

But I know somehow I'll love you even more tomorrow
